

Dear little friend,

Hello from the North Pole!

I wanted to write you this very special letter all the way from the North Pole because I have some very exciting news for you... Your Christmas present this year is extra special!

The reindeer and I have got a busy time ahead of us to deliver gifts to children all over the world, and your gift this year will take a little bit of extra time, because it is so special... it's a brand new Springfree Trampoline!

If your new trampoline is too heavy for my sleigh, I'll organise a van to deliver it to you – so keep an eye out! Don't worry, it's on its way and will be well worth the wait! I know you will love it!

Merry Christmas,

Santa Claus
